

FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

APRIL 21, 2024

Scripture Reflection...

Sometimes a piece of theater can be so powerful it stays with you for your whole life. Many years ago I saw Jesuit dramatist Michael Moynahan perform his mime entitled "Come-Passion." It starts with a clown happily doing tricks and juggling for the audience. Soon, Jesus is led in by the soldiers and is crucified. The clown watches on in horror. When Jesus dies and the soldiers go home the clown remains at the foot of the cross. He removes the nails from the hands and feet of Jesus and cradles the corpse in his lap, as in Michelangelo's Pieta. He weeps for the evil that saw a just man crucified. Just then, the soldiers return and find the clown grieving over the body of Jesus. They crucify the clown. The clown suffers and dies on the cross. As they leave Jesus is raised to life, he sees the suffering clown, removes the nails, cradles him in his arms and holds him for what feels like an eternity.

When I saw this mime you could have heard a pin drop, and there wasn't a dry eye in the house. The word compassion comes from the Latin word compati meaning to bear or suffer with. It's not pity, sympathy or commiseration. Those words imply that we stand outside an experience and feelingly look in on it. Compassion is about "fellow-feeling." It's what the Good Shepherd embodies, and what Easter is all about. If we are worthy followers of Jesus we will all have our fair share of Good Fridays, but Easter Sunday tells us that just as the Father remained faithful to Jesus, so Jesus will remain faithful to us, as one with us.

In recent years the bishops, who are often called shepherds of the local Church, have come under extraordinary scrutiny. And rightly so. All of us who are living the Christian life are accountable for what we have done and have failed to do, and the bishops are no exception. It's a tough time to be the local shepherd. The flock is highly educated and we no longer follow anyone's lead with a herd mentality. We want to know our shepherd, hear his compassionate voice call for justice for victims everywhere, but especially ones who have been injured in any way by the Church. We want to be confident that what our local shepherd says and does is what Christ the Good Shepherd would say and do. Over these past years our sense of dismay has come from a very few bishops who have chosen the so-called good name of the church, its social status and power, their public profile and even the threat of moral and financial liability over the voices of the most vulnerable members of our flock.

Today's Gospel reminds us what Christian leadership should look like. Jesus didn't liken it to princes in palaces or governors of provinces. His metaphor was of a compassionate shepherd who sleeps in the field with his flock, one who knows them so well and loves them so dearly that he lays down his own life for them.

Let's pray at this Eucharist that we always have the leaders we deserve, ones whose compassion is so transparent that it inspires us to be the same, even towards them.

Stewardship Thought for the Week

"I am the good shepherd...and I lay down my life for the sheep...and they will heed my voice."

- John 10:14-16

When you pray, do you only ask Jesus for the things that you want? Do you ever ask Jesus what He wants from you? How do you listen for His response? Many times Jesus responds in "quiet whispers" that are not so obvious. So, take time every day, in silence, to actively listen for His voice.

CATHOLIC RELIEF SERVICES

"When the earthquake struck, the house started shaking, and it broke apart. We were scared and stayed outside the house for almost four months. Every hour, we would be waking up thinking, "Are we safe? Are we going to have another earthquake?" ~ Lal

More than 800,000 houses that were destroyed or damaged by the earthquake in Nepal. The government and various humanitarian organizations, including Catholic Relief Services (CRS), launched a massive relief and reconstruction effort to help those affected. When CRS visited Lal's village and determined his house was unsafe, he was enrolled on the most vulnerable list for his family's home to be rebuilt. CRS and local partners gave guidance and support by providing technical assistance, construction materials and skilled masons to build Lal's new home. Lal's family is 1 of approximately 4,000 families assisted by CRS after the 2015 earthquake in Nepal. Visit www.crs.org to see how you can help!

If you would like to get involved with CRS at the parish level, please email service@stvparish.org to find out more about our parish CRS chapter, a joint effort with our sister parish, St. Cyprian.

Please take something during mass and return it when finished.

“Is it not sharing your bread with the hungry, bringing the afflicted and the homeless into your house; Clothing the naked when you see them, and not turning your back on your own flesh? Then your light shall break forth like the dawn.”

Isaiah 58:7-8

As part of our parish outreach to the incarcerated, our 7th grade Confirmation students sent letters of hope and encouragement to prisoners all over the country through A.D.R.O.P.'s (Augustinian Defenders of the Rights of the Poor) prison ministry program. We have received many letters of gratitude from the prisoners. This is a letter from Jermaine who is incarcerated in Florida.

April 4, 2024

Dear Friends:

To Clara, her fellow students, and the organizers of the project that brought a smile to my face and joy to my day, please allow me to say thank you, thank you, THANK YOU!! For such a wonderful letter! Truly you have added something special to my day. I was so moved by your words of encouragement that I wanted to share it in hopes of inspiring this feeling of gratitude in others. So I made my way over to a table where a group of people were seated, extended my greetings, and asked if I could sit with them. “Yes, of course” answered one of the guys. “Is everything ok?” he asked. Oh, yeah I replied “just that I have a message that I believe was intended to reach each one of us.” I began to read your letter and the joy, optimism and boost of morale I felt I saw they were experiencing, too. “A message from God!” someone exclaimed. “Brought to us by Clara, her fellow students, and the organizers of this wonderful project,” I said agreeing.

God Bless!
Love and Blessings,
Jermaine
