

Conversation Starters for Kids

If you have an open line of communication with your child on a day-to-day basis, talking about tougher subjects when they arise is much easier. So, how do you get your kids to open up and talk to you? They talked and asked questions non-stop when they were young and then all of a sudden, they stopped talking!

Check out the conversation starters below and give them a try. Some families put each one on a slip of paper in a jar, and draw one out at dinner, for everyone to answer.

- What's your favorite movie?
- What's the scariest movie you've ever seen?
- Who's your favorite actor/ actress?
- Where's the funniest place you've ever to?
- Where's the best vacation you've been on?
- What's your favorite food?
- Do you like to cook?
- What sports do you like to play?
- What sports do you like to watch?
- What's your favorite TV show?
- What would you buy with $25, $100 $1,000?
- If you were invisible where would you go and what would you do?

- If you could be a famous athlete, actor, writer or musician which would you choose and why?
- If you could invent one thing what would it be?
- If you could know one thing about the future, what would it be?
- If you could have a round-trip ride in a time machine and travel any distance into the past or future, where would you want to go?
- If you were to be granted any one magical power you wanted, what would you pick?
- If you could have either the ability to talk to animals or the power to see into the future, which would you want?
- If you could see into the future but not change it, would you want to do so?
- What is your idea of a dream vacation?
- And if you're really feeling bold, give this one a try
- If you could change any one thing about your parents, what would it be?

Source: Richmond Children's Museum. Submitted to blog by admin on February 5, 2014 - 9:28am. <http://www.c-mor.org/Conversation-starters-blog>